RIDE PREVIEWS OF THE 1980 SEASON ARE IN DEVELOPING STAGES WITH THE REPEATS OF ANNUAL CLASSES, EARLY SPRING CONDITIONING "A" & "B" RIDE SERIES WITH SOME "C"-S.

IT TOOK YEARS FOR OUR CLUB TO TAKE UP MY SUGGESTION AND PUT INTO EFFECT THAT RIDERS SHOULD LIST THEMSELVES WITH THE LEADERS BEFORE THE EVENTS, SO HE CAN CALL YOUR FOLKS IN CASE OF ACCIDENT. ON ONE WEEKEND TRIP YEARS AGO GARRY KRYZNOWEK WAS PUT ON THE TRAIN AFTER AN ACCIDENT BY LEADER STEVE BAUMAN AS EVERYONE RODE AHEAD, STEVE GOT HIT BY A CAR ALONE LEAVING THE STATION, BREAKING 3 RIDES. IT STANDS TO REASON THE LEADER SHOULD PUT HIS NAME ON THE LIST FIRST. FURTHERMORE I SUGGEST A NEW YEAR RESOLUTION FOR FUTURE LEADERS TO GET TRAINED AT LEAST IN BASIC FIRST AID. YOU MAY BE TOO MANY MILES FROM A PHONE WHEN YOU NEED ONE. YOUR LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER WILL GIVE YOU ALL THE NECESSARY INFORMATION WHERE AND HOW TO START. ALL NYH LEADERS AND YOURS TRULY HAVE ALREADY DONE SO. LET'S HOPE THIS IDEA WILL NOT TAKE YEARS TO GROW ON ALSO.....
Program Notes

Lorraine Gewirtz

For the past year we've had a variety of programs from the bike safety trilogy with Myrna Myers' "Effective Cycling", Frank Hynes and the AAA's "Only One Road" and Debbie Hutchinson's "First Aid for Cyclists" to -- bicycle touring in Holland with Frank Behrendt and -- cycling in Cuba with Elliot Winick. Our own Bob Herzfelder (now Florida's own) treated us to slide presentations of GEAR through the years and a nostalgic 19-year backward glance at NYCC. For our technocrats we had "Frame Building" with Mike Frayssee and Dave Moulton and -- "Wheels" with Francis Bollag. All our talents blossomed at our Auction and at our Sharing program -- where we did just that with our own bicycle innovations and inventions. Our surprise guests -- the 1979 Pepsiola Marathon winner Henry Gifford and our logo artist, Gene Reynolds, added to the pleasure of the evening.

Sincere thanks and appreciation to our knowledgeable, talented and giving guests from whom we enjoyed learning. Much appreciation to all of our regular members who share valuable bike know-how with us all the time. Thanks also to all of you for your program suggestions and kind comments.

We've enjoyed our expert guests and each other throughout the year but, now comes the pièce de resistance ... a Bike Bash Extravaganza like you've never experienced. For, on December 18th WE'RE HAVING A PARTY! And to whet your appetite we'll list just a few of our talents of the evening ... the (in)famous "Hungarian Harmonicat", "Vocalizing by Ethel" (if we can provide proper accompaniment), a bit of "Flouting with the Flowers" and J.R.'s original "B'iking Away". So, do join us and partake of a party that you have to see, hear and experience to believe!
To the members of the New York Cycle Club

Dear Friends:

The other day I received a letter which I thought would be of interest to the older members who enjoyed the many weekends at Pakatakaan Lodge in the 1960's and 1970's before we switched over to the Tennanah Lake Shore Lodge. The letter was from Laura Beland announcing that Frank, her husband had passed away on August 22nd. I had visited Frank and Laura only several weeks before while I was vacationing in the area. Frank had been quite ill a year or so before, but appeared fully recovered and in good spirits.

The old timers may recall Frank's stories and good humor at the bar during the evenings at the old lodge; and I know many of us will miss him. If anyone is so inclined to drop Laura a note the address is as follows:

Mrs. Laura Beland
Pakatakaan Lodge, Box 174
Arkville, N.Y. 12406.

Janet and I have been very busy getting our condominium set up, so that we have not had very much time to indulge in extra-curricula activities. I have managed to get in a few very short spins on the bicycle mostly for errands; and today I went in for my first swim. The apartment is pretty well set now, so that we will have more time to enjoy the weather and the activities here.

We received the information concerning the Paul Dudley White Wheelmen's Winter Rendezvous in Homestead, Florida. It will run from Saturday, March 1st until Friday, March 7th. If anyone is thinking of attending this very delightful week of winter cycling in summer climate they may obtain their information and application forms by writing as follows:

Wheelmen's Winter Rendezvous
678 NW 9th Street
Homestead, Florida, 33030.

Hopefully, we will see some of you down there.

Happy Cycling,
"IRONLEG" TACKLES THE LANGUAGE BARRIER.

BY JIM REX

My Robin Hood style of hit and run punchline tactic use of the English language over the years gave the established culture vultures of our club plenty to thrive on. I been cited with several offenses committed against grammar by them, as if we had a cops and robbers relationship. I'm trying to get away with it, only to see them happy catching me in the act. This preoccupation stems from the fact that crime is the fastest growing industry of our decadent decade.

Analogy or not, even if all crimes were solved, law enforcement and legal professionals would experience high unemployment crisis. Just as if people never got sick, would make little sense trying to cure them from health. In the ultimate sense I provide my critics with some service, or they would have nothing else to do by themselves.

One complaint I heard pertains to my lack of comma, but that's O.K. with people who don't tend to be comatose. Another request was for more colon use, but I suspect it to be a colonizing tendency to take it at face value. Some even suggested that I can't handle semi colons, but that's false too. I admit my free lance method applied differently from the ordinary: just by gut blasting up the hill in 30-70 Gears regardless of blue toenails, usually looking back from the top I can see one guy or another struggling only half way up yet, a sure sign of suffering from "semi colon" for his got only half the guts. So once again it's really not my problem.

I can't deny my punctuation problems have been real. On century rides I had 2 or 3 almost on a regular daily basis, until I went back to using clincher tires. Not that tubulars are less durable than they used to be, but it's ever increasing price along with the pot holes and dirtier roads year after year, makes it a thing of the past for practical purposes, and luxury items for others.

Talking about pot holes, our mayor who reminds me of a guy who took bandage treatment from a scalpmhunter, in this year of hilariously so called continuous budget cuts got himself a wage increase to boost his salary over $36,000 / yr. He turns around to make sure the money will be there to make the payroll; in his infinite wisdom have instituted a new policy regarding municipal liability, resulting from accidents caused by pot holes. You are required to give 15 days advance notice by mail to allow time for road repairs. At such point catch 22 takes effect, for if you can't sue them when the problem exist what grounds will you have after it's eliminated, and if they still haven't fixed it, they blame the post office. Judging from our bulletin delivery rate you know what that means.

For all practical purposes now you'll have to limit yourself to big holes that will require two weeks time to climb out of, in order for your mail to allow your claim to mature into validity. I get the impression some people chose politics as a carrier after they were rejected from the Gong Show. If their savvy is allowed to continue, I can foresee budget cuts by year 2000 in the disable pension system, where the benefits offered will be reduced to being shot dead, for not getting killed in the first place.

So much for political and economical solutions. If it keeps up, you can save your worn out quality components as collectors items, because soon nobody will be able to afford them. Obviously the next thing you can expect they'll be discontinued, and that's where you come in.

On a last note I would like to deliver some retro-active punctuations to correct my past mistakes. Apply as needed.................;:;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;.;

Have a nice holiday season!
Happy Holidays to all and best wishes for 1986!
