Rides, Rides, Rides

Over the last five or six years, shepherded by the very talented Robin Read, and then Timothy McCarthy along with Peter O’Reilly, the club website has grown to become not only an integral part of our club, but perhaps one of the best bike-club websites in the country. And now, thanks to Timothy and Peter, a new program has been added to our website that changes the way we do business—the business of ride submission. Acknowledging the fact that the major focal point of our club is to have organized rides, we believe that this program is the “tool” that advances us one thousand percent ahead of what we had before. We feel so positive about this program that we would like everyone in the club to see it first-hand. By signing onto the program (enter your name, an email address and a password), which does not require you to submit a ride, not only will you be able to see how the new ride-submission program works, you will also be automatically entering your name in a raffle for a $100 gift certificate to the bike shop of your choice. The new program went “live” on Tuesday, July 13. You have until Tuesday, September 14 to be eligible for the raffle. And of course, while you’re at it please submit a ride. Check it out!

And speaking of rides, our biggest ride of the year is quickly coming upon us. As the days of August click by, it is “crunch time” for our ENY committee, headed by Lynn Baruh. Our 10th annual Escape New York City (offering 100-mile, 62-mile and 50-mile rides) will happen on Saturday, September 18. This fully backed event, with posted routes, food/rest stops, sag wagons and guided group rides, usually draws between 300 to 400 riders. And of course, it does not happen without a “bunch” of volunteers. If you haven’t done so yet, please consider volunteering to help out with this event. Not only is it a way to give back to your club, it is also a very gratifying experience. And by volunteering, you will be invited to join an elite group of ride leaders and marshals on a pre-ride one week before the event (and lunch that day is “on the club”). For information on volunteering please contact Tricia Wallace at triciawallace@yahoo.com or 212-247-3263.

And besides our regular club rides this month, look for these special events and rides: a boat cruise on Friday, August 13, a picnic/all-class ride with the Sound Cyclists bike club on Sunday, August 15 and an NYCC Labor Day weekend in Massachusetts with Ride NOHO. For information on these events, check elsewhere in this Bulletin, on our club website and in the weekly club email.

Have a great August.

Club Event for August
Friday, August 13, 2004, 6:30—10:00 pm

Manhattan Sunset Cruises, Pier 86 (12th Ave. & 46th St.)

The NYCC has arranged for its members to go on a Manhattan sunset cruise aboard a multi-level luxury yacht called the Amber Jack. We will be getting a great deal that includes a three-hour cruise, two free drinks, free hot appetizers, a live DJ, dancing and a free gift upon departure, all for the unbelievably low (insider) price of just $32 (the regular price is $96!). To guarantee your spot, please send a check, made payable to Gail Williams, to:

Gail Williams
48-11 47th Street
New York, NY 11377

Please be advised that Gail must receive your payment by August 11 to reserve your space. Unfortunately, we cannot accept “walk-ups” for this event. The more, the merrier, so bring friends or family, and don’t be late, the ship boards at 6:30 and sails at 7:00 sharp!
NYCC Columbus Day Weekend in the Catskills
October 8—11, 2004

Join us for the NYCC’s 14th almost-annual fall weekend in Ulster County. There will be great rides on lightly traveled roads, fun people, delicious food and spectacular fall foliage. Phoenicia, 25 miles west of Kingston in the heart of the Catskill Mountains, is the perfect location for our autumnal escape. Bed and breakfasts, inns, lodges and motels abound, and we all know the riding is unsurpassed. (No one ever gets lost—they just wind up on the wrong beautiful road!)

Woodstock is a mere 15 miles away and it’s just a short detour from there to the infamous Devil’s Kitchen. Last year, all eight riders who attempted the climb, made it to the top. In addition to the beautiful scenery, the reward is lunch at Maggie’s Crooked Cafe in Tannersville. New Paltz is about 70 miles round trip, with or without climbing Mohonk Mountain. The notorious Slide Mountain/Samson/Peekamoose loop is only a 70-mile ride, albeit most of it is vertical! There are also plenty of rolling miles around the Ashokan Reservoir. And there are hundreds of miles of other scenic roads to explore.

The only problem is that rooms sell out fast. If you’re tired of spending weekends in Nyack and Park Ridge, don’t wait until the last minute to make a reservation.

Paul Hofherr will be leading his inimitable B15/C14 rides as only a native of Phoenicia can. Fred Steinberg will be exploring new routes, of course, on his A18 rides. Margaret Cipolla will show you her favorite places on her A/B18 rides. Jeff Vogel will be getting dropped while attempting to lead faster A rides. There will be other rides if someone volunteers to lead them. Contact Jeff (info below) if you would like to lead a ride.

And don’t forget to bring your hiking boots - you may want to forgo a day in the saddle to take advantage of the area’s many hiking trails. There’s everything from a quiet walk in the woods to challenging 4,000-foot climbs. Or stay over on Monday night to do a hike with Margaret, Jeff and Kitty on Tuesday.

A group dinner will be held on Sunday, October 10 at the American Café, on Route 28, two miles west of Phoenicia. The cost is $34 if paid by September 20, and $39 until October 4. You will NOT be able to pay at the door. Please make your check payable to Jeff Vogel and mail it to 102-10 66th Road, Apt. 14E, Forest Hills NY 11375.

Most towns in the Catskills are served by Trailways (800-858-8555). The one-way fare is $27. Bikes are free, but must be boxed.

The following is a partial list of accommodations in the area. (All numbers are in area code 845, unless noted otherwise.) More info on lodging is available at: www.ulstertourism.info; www.hudsonvalleybandbs.com or 845-687-0757; the Ulster County tourism 24-hour info line, 800-DIAL-UCO; or Ulster County’s direct line (9 am to 5 pm), 845-340-3566.

If you have any other questions or want to lead a ride, please contact Jeff Vogel at CPAcycles@aol.com or 718-275-6978.

You Don’t Have to Live on the East Side to be a Member of the 92nd Street Y’s Gym

Lots of people who don’t even live in Manhattan but work there belong to the Y’s May Center for Health, Fitness & Sport (its gym facilities). It’s easy to fit in workout time before work—it opens at 5 am—or after work. Now the Y is making belonging even more tempting. It now offers a corporate rate membership to NYCC members, as it already does for members of the NY Road Runners. The corporate rate is a considerable savings over regular membership. For example, new members pay $1,195 per year, while the corporate rate is $750. Members who renew can also do so at the corporate rate, rather than pay the $895 renewal fee.

So when it’s steamy or rainy, NYCC members can cross-train in an air-conditioned gym. In addition to top-of-the-line aerobic and weight machines, the May Center has NYC’s only indoor 25-yard pool with an ozone disinfecting system (no chlorine!), basketball and racquetball courts, steam rooms, saunas, whirlpools, more than 100 free weekly exercise classes and a free lending library. You can check out the Y’s facilities at www.92y.org. For more information, call the membership sales office at 212-415-5729 or stop by the 3rd floor membership sales office at 1395 Lexington Avenue (at 92nd Street). You must mention that you are a NYCC member to get the special rate.

C13 52 MI 9:00 AM ECCENTRIC MEANDERING RIVERDALE/WESTCHESTER
Leaders: Ruth Yashpan rdy98@aol.com 718 549-0746; Amelia Kennedy
From: 242 St & Broadway, Bronx (Van Cortlandt Park, last stop on the #1 train)
A hilly start, meandering around the quiet streets, picturesque mansions and shaded roads of Riverdale (Fieldston area). We’ll briefly stop at Wave Hill to view the flora, fauna and breathtaking panorama of the Hudson River before continuing along Palisades Avenue and points North for more and more dramatic vistas of the Hudson River and Palisades. After lunch in Tarrytown, we’ll change terrains and head east circling the scenic Tarrytown reservoir, heading north by crisscrossing from the beautiful, but hilly countryside routes of Northern Westchester – hopefully we’ll see a few horses and cows – into the simple rustic North Country Trail; the level trail offers a breather from the hilly roads. Towards Yorktown, the Croton Reservoir Bridge offers a spectacular view of the surrounding landscape. Possible ice cream stop at the end of trail. Return by Metro North. Bring good gearings skills, smiles, helmet, water, sunscreen, snacks, cash, and Metro North Bike Pass. Rain? Check NYCC message board at 7:30 am or call leader.

Notes from a Spicy Land: Travels Without My Bicycle

Story and Photos by Cat Bent

Early this year I was invited on a performing tour of India. To refer to it as a professional situation would be giving its organizers undue credit; suffice it to say that we toured and we performed. My reward was the opportunity to discover a continent unknown to me and its utterly unfamiliar culture. Having no expectations at all was the best way to prepare for the steam bath of Bombay Airport, where the mosquitoes held a “welcome buffet” on me for the duration of my six-hour layover. And for Chennai, where I emerged in the pre-dawn to a sea of brown faces and white shirts, and hurtled through the waking streets in a dreamlike state, watching the bluish-lit videogame of two-, three- and four-wheelers, bipeds and quadrupeds, negotiating a ribbon of road.

My hosts pointed out important attractions: the Theosophical Society, the School of Bharatnatyam, the Institute of Leather Research. My attention, however, was entirely focused on surviving this round—since I had no cash for another. I admired the unconcern of my fellow players: tiny children napping on the gas tanks of motorcycles while helmetless parents breated between bulging buses and belching lorries; impassive Brahman bulletlocks pulling impossibly laden carts; bicycles and cycle rickshaws powered by loinclothed Gandhis, the concept of rearview mirrors unknown. Every woman, sitting side-saddle on the back of a two-wheeler, was nonchalantly carrying five meters of silk or cotton, only the saree-guard-cum-kickstand on the back wheel protecting them from unspeakable tragedy. And everywhere, everywhere, honking their little bulb-horns, were the yellow and black auto-rickshaws “tak tak tak SQUHONK tak tak,” zipping and weaving in the fray. These bumblebees, for the next ten weeks, were to be the mascot of my independence.

I spent a desultory three weeks in Chennai, the charm of staying in my boss’ parents’ small house with nine people plus giant flying roaches—but without my own key—fast wearing off. I passed many hours in the Internet café on the corner, trying, for the benefit of an imaginary audience at home, to spin my grey frustration into colorful yarns. This provided me with some solace and made me feel a little less like a caged pigeon. I didn’t mind the bucket-baths but I missed my freedom. The city was thrifty with pavement and a walk to the nearby beach involved a scary diagonal traffic dash and a lot of human waste (not mine, but it was a close call). Street signs, when they occurred, were usually in Tamil, and rarely corroborated my little map. I had, however, improved my score in the traffic videogame! A trip by auto typically involved a fierce financial negotiation, several stops en route for the driver to ask directions or add a cup of fuel, being almost flung from the open sides of the wobbly vehicle and unquestionably one’s money’s worth of adrenaline thrill. There is no concept of lanes of flow, or of personal space; everybody just goes where they can and I was constantly amazed that people didn’t collide. The colorful rear end of every large vehicle in- structs “sound horn” and perhaps this is an effective formula. It was unbelievably dusty and smoky and funny and noisy and hilarious. A bandanna over the face is advisable, but I learned that most young Indians actually cover their faces out of vanity—light skin is more desirable.

My hostess wouldn’t be caught dead in an auto-rickshaw, let alone on a bicycle, but among the less fortunate castes a bicycle is a highly prized object. As I walked along a side street, four boys riding one bicycle discovered that they could not laugh and balance at the same time, but even after they wiped out they were still laughing (at me, taking their photograph). I found myself watching people on bicycles (carrying, for instance, a hundredweight of bananas or a sofa) with awe and horror, and furtively approached a couple of bicycle shops to ask if they did rentals, which none would admit to. I was at the mercy of the “Madam. Madam. You want rickshaw, madam? One hundred rupees” brigade, and learned how to drive a hard bargain. I also went through several pairs of flip-flops and a whole bottle of New Skin.

At the end of January, under-rehearsed but ready for anything, we set sail for Auroville, near Pondicherry, a town famous for its French charm. This “utopian community” has a distinctly SoCal vibe, but with more Bengalis. At the heart of the compound is the massive Matri Mandir, a meditation dome that looks like a big gold golf ball. It’s absolutely space-age and weird (and did I say gigantic?). I resisted the temptation to queue up with coachloads of Indian and European tourists for 30 seconds’ communion with “the Mother.”

A couple of things improved my quality of life. One was being out of Chennai and into the woods. Apart from the incessant buzzing of motorcycles and the obsessive quill bird, it was much cleaner and quieter. I was still harassed by beggars and relentless vendors, but most people walking around are residents whose approaches are imbued with unconditional love. Another good thing was that the flying cockroaches of the city were replaced with different varieties of creepy-crawlies, mostly just fat shiny worms and lizards. My colleagues shrieked at spiders in the loo; huge, crocodilian lizards in the grass behind our cabin; and a six-foot snake crossing the road, but I saw nothing but ants in my sponge-bag, perhaps because I was moving too fast. Which brings me to the third thing: renting a bike!

It was not like any bike I’ve ever ridden before, but after trying out every horse in the stable (our guesthouse kept about a dozen) I was happy to find one that had both brakes and steering. The second choice to be made was right or left buttock support. Bike Number 1 seemed set up for carrying books under one’s arms, which I didn’t plan to do; nevertheless it and I spent a fair amount of bouncy, squeaky and dusty time together. The narrow handlebars proved to be an asset on the roads, which were not as congested as in Chennai but were similarly anarchic.

Auroville is unexpectedly huge and the Indians don’t go in for maps. I once took a wrong turn and found myself on unmarked, sandy tracks for almost an hour, accidentally touring the Ganesh (Continued on page 14)

Volunteers Needed for Escape New York Century

Want to see old friends, meet new ones and/or feast on good food, all the while helping the NYCC put on one of its biggest and most popular events of the year? Here’s your chance!

We eagerly seek volunteers to help with the Tenth Annual Escape New York Century ride, which will take place on Saturday, September 18, 2004. Before the ride, we will need help with marking the ENY routes so that we don’t have to send out search parties to find lost, confused riders. On the day of the ride, so many tasks to choose from: leading a ride, registering people for the ride, setting up rest stops and lunch areas and serving food and drinks to the riders. We need help from set-up early in the morning to closing in the evening, but you can sign up for all or part of the day as it fits your schedule.

In exchange for volunteering, you’ll receive a free ENY t-shirt and all the wraps, cookies and snacks you can eat on the day of ENY. Although you will not be able to ride on the day of the ENY, you can participate in the ENY Committee’s pre-ride of the routes on the preceding weekend and still get in those precious miles. Except for ride-leaders, no prior experience is required!

Please contact Tricia Wallace at 212-247-3263 or triciawallace@yahoo.com to volunteer or for further information.
This month we start with dirt from one of the signature events of the NYCC, the annual July 4th West Point Weekend. First and foremost and most important of all is the big, huge “thank you” we all owe to Ed White for a job spectacularly done. For those NYCCers who’ve been living in a cave for the past few months, Ed coordinated the event this year, bravely stepping into shoes it would seem no one could possibly fill. After more years than we can count, the venerable Christy Guzzetta passed the West Point torch and Ed volunteered to grab it. Ed’s meticulous attention to every possible detail was evident in how smoothly every event of the weekend came off. This despite numerous hurdles. Everything that could go wrong did go wrong, yet by the time the weekend rolled around nothing went wrong. Ed, we’re afraid you’ve inherited the job for life. Speaking of jobs for life, just when Christy thought he was out, he got pulled back in and ended up turning his Cold Spring weekend house into a B&B to accommodate as many NYCCers as it could possibly hold due to a shortage of rooms at the Thayer. Not only that, Christy and wife Jodie Sayer’s (yes) big, black Cadillac supplied shuttle service between Cold Spring and West Point all weekend.

The weekend started with rides up to West Point. Many A, B and C rides were listed, including a B-19. What’s a B-19, you may ask? Well, this ride was neither a B nor a 19. More like an A-23. After getting dropped by this “B” ride, Debbie Rothschild chased and finally hooked onto the back of what she thought was her ride. Finally, she was able to slow down, relax and easily stay with the pack. Little did she know, however, that the slower ride she finally caught up with was really Timmy McCarthy’s A-22!

Perpetual Ride Leader of the Year Fred Steinberg thought he had the weekend off from leading rides; however, Fred’s reputation precedes him. On Saturday he was comfortably riding along when a group of riders found him and begged him to lead them on a detour to West Point. Of course, he couldn’t say no. The next day, as the A group gathered for the “thousand hills” ride, at least six people were heard saying, “I’m following Fred.”

You think the rides at West Point were hard? Try doing the “thousand hills” followed by several miles of running. Both Basil Ashmore and Marni Aaron (no) attended the weekend just a few short weeks before the Lake Placid Ironman, in which they will both participate. Good luck, Basil and Marni—we are in awe! Please tell us how it goes so we can report it next month.

On the boat ride, once again there was music, dancing and various couplings among NYCC members. It was also a good opportunity for the official passing of the torch between Christy and Ed. In appreciation of Christy’s many years of service, Ed presented him with a book on West Point. In appreciation of Ed’s taking over the job, Christy presented him with—you guessed it—a book on West Point! Great minds think alike, eh?

The weekend ended with rides home, terminating at Christy and Jodie’s apartment, where the luggage was waiting, attended by none other than a lounging Ed White, chaise longue, cooler, watermelon and drinks at hand. A perfect end to a perfect weekend.

In other news, club financial wiz Deborah Bennett and fiancé David Dempsey (yes), last seen together at West Point, were married in Ireland on July 15. The wedding took place in a little town called Gougane Barra in west County Cork. Deb and David were there last year on a bike trip and loved it. There is a little chapel on a lake and a hotel and a pub—that’s it, but what more do you need? David’s whole family is in Ireland and Debbie’s was happy to fly over. Congratulations, Deb and David. Now hurry back, Deb, the club’s books are waiting!

You may remember that a call went out a while back for members to send in nominations for the NYCC Pit Stop Hall of Fame. While many elegant establishments were named, it also became apparent that for people who spend as much time on the road as we do, the standard for lavatory splendor diminishes greatly. Among the entries were the gas station on the Palisades Parkway accessed by a break in the fence along Sylvan Boulevard, the Port-a-Sans at all the building sites of New Jersey and Rockland County McMansions and, of course, the New Jersey side of the GW Bridge. Thanks to Caryl Baron and Phil Weissman (no) for highlighting these laws and Mark Gelles for filling us in.

He’s baa-ack. To newbies it may be meaningless, but to old timers, the name Lou S. Pokes (loupokes@aol.com) strikes fear in the hearts of even the thickest skinned of NYCCers. Returning from a stint as bureau chief on Devil’s Island, the man who puts the Dirt in Road Dirt reports all of the following:

After a recent incident, John (AFI) Polakis is looking for a new SIG: the “Handshake SIG.” John, it’s pretty simple—just 3 steps. You grab, shake and release. The release is the key, though. Practice. Please.

Going straight to hell: On a recent Sunday, David Thomas, Jeff “El Jefe” Vogel and Alison Holden (no) were riding up Route 501 towards Nyack. On one of the gradual downhillns, an SUV pulled in between David and El Jefe, then braked abruptly and made a right turn into a parking lot, running El Jefe off the road. Alison pulled alongside and began shouting about a need to signal. El Jefe just wanted an apology from the driver. No apology was forthcoming, the only explanation being that the cyclists should have signaled their intent NOT to turn! The driver then incongruously pointed out that El Jefe should have been wearing a helmet, as if that would make it OK. This escalated the shouting into an expletive-laden tirade by El Jefe. A few seconds later El Jefe realized the parking lot, where the whole incident had taken place, was a crowded church lot!

That same week, Todd Brilliant was the victim of a theft at work. He commutes on his track bike and leaves it locked up on a busy corner in front of the Empire State Building. Taking all the proper precautions, Todd uses a very heavy lock and even chains his saddle to the frame. But even that’s not enough these days. Todd came out from work one day to find his chaining, crank arms, and pedals had been removed. Who walks around with a crank extractor?! So if any of you figure out how to prevent this from happening again or, for that matter, having someone remove your handlebars, brakes and stem, please let us know. We’d like to stop thieves from building bikes one component at a time.

Ugh oh. “The Don” is upset. Don Montalvo, aka “Hell’s Kitchen Fats,” read last month’s column in which Luis Diaz was named “Hustler of the NYCC” for winning a few bucks shooting pool on the Berkshires weekend. The Don rides a bike for cross-training. He used to be a great climber but now does all his competing on the dead flat slate of a pool table. If billiards had categories like bike racing does, the Don would certainly be a Cat 1 billiards player, having won and placed in many regional tournaments. So the challenge is out there—the Don against the Hustler. I’ll handle the betting for the NYCC with the Don as the 4-5 favorite and the Hustler at even money. All we need now is a time and place for the match.

That’s it for this month. We’ll see you in September. Meanwhile, send your dirt to RoadDirt@NYCC.org. Remember, it doesn’t have to be dirty to be road dirt.
Please read this before your first club ride:

NYCC RIDES are led by volunteer leaders who plan the route and maintain the listed speed (e.g., 85% = A level at 15 mph cruising speed — see chart). Our rides are described by pace and style because it's more fun when the groups of similar ability. We ride for fun, fitness, and food.

RIDE LEVEL indicates the type of riding. See chart at right. CRUISING SPEED indicates the ride's speed on flat terrain. AVERAGE RIDING SPEED over rolling terrain is 3 mph less than cruising speed. This will vary plus or minus 1 mph, according to terrain. OVERALL SPEED, including all rest and food stops, is about 3 mph less than average riding speed.

SELF TEST: Assess your personal cruising speed by riding 4 laps (24.08 miles) around Central Park at a comfortable pace and matching your time with the chart. Note: Riding fewer than 4 laps will give you a false assessment.

YOUR FIRST NYCC RIDE: Be conservative. Choose a ride easier and shorter than you think you can ultimately handle. You won't enjoy struggling to keep up with a ride that's too fast for you, nor will the group enjoy waiting for you. It's a good idea to call the leader a day or so before the ride, and introduce yourself when signing up at the start.

BEFORE ANY RIDE: Check that your bike is in good riding condition: brakes and derailleurs working well, tires pumped to the pressure specified on the sidewall, a nutritious breakfast.

BRING: spare tube, tire levers, patch kit, pump, water, snacks, money, medical ID, emergency phone numbers. We also suggest: lock, railroad pass. Leaders may specify other items in their ride listings.

BIKE PASSES are always required on Metro-North and the LIRR. Bike passes good for both Metro-North and the LIRR are available at the Window 27 at Grand Central or any window at Penn Station or by calling 212-346-5294 or 718-580-2020 or by visiting http://www.mta.nyc.ny.us/lirr/pubs/bicycle.pdf for a printable application form to mail in.

BIKE TRAINS: On Saturdays and Sundays, Metro North has scheduled specific trains to and from Grand Central Station to accommodate large groups of cyclists. Bike trains are indicated by a bicycle symbol on the printed Metro North timetables. Schedules change frequently. Visit http://www.mta.nyc.nyus/nrr for the latest schedule.

There are no bike trips on holidays. Refer to roster for weekend rides which apply at other times.

The following schedule applies from April 4 to October 30, 2004.

Please Note: Metro-North requires prior notice for large groups (6 or more) on scheduled Bike Trains and groups of three or more cyclists on a regular service train. When you submit a ride involving Metro-North to a ride coordinator, at the same time shoot an email off to our renowned Metro-North liaison, Hank Schiffman, at hank.schiffman@nyct.com or 212-289-9082. He will manage all the details, but he cannot do it on a plenemaal, last-minute basis.

LEAD A RIDE: Pick a date, pick a pace, pick a destination, pick a route, write it all up and submit to the appropriate ride coordinator (listed below) by the second Tuesday of the month before you want to lead your ride.

A-Rides: Robert Gray, 212-529-0586 or myarchitect@msn.com

B-Rides: Wayne Wright, 212-873-7103 or waynewright@msn.com

C-Rides: Isaac Bruner, 212-724-6039 or isaacbruner@hotmail.com

Lead enough rides during the year and you qualify for a special prize (given out in December):

3 rides = NYCC water bottle
6 or more rides = NYCC t-shirt
12 or more rides (1st place) = NYCC Ride Leader's vest (you can't buy one of these — you have to earn it!)
12 or more rides (2nd place) = any club garment of your choice.
The meeting was called to order at 7:15 p.m. In attendance were Stan Oldak, Deborah Bennett, Robert Gray, Tom Laskey, Peter O’Reilly, Fred Steinberg, Timothy McCarthy, David Sabbarese, Wayne Wright, Mark Gelles, Isaac Brumer. Not present: Hal Eskinazi, Ludwig Vogel.

Successful Weekend in the Berkshires

The Board was thankful to all of the volunteers — including especially Fred Steinberg, Liane Montesina and Gail Williams — who worked hard to plan such a spectacular weekend in the Berkshires over Memorial Day Weekend. From the luggage pick-ups to the rides to the dinner, everything went off without a hitch. Great work!

Public Relations

Mark Gelles has taken over the Public Relations position on the Board. We are planning a public relations campaign aimed at staying in the good graces of the organizations whose establishments we frequent as rest stops (i.e., police stations, gas stations, etc.) on our rides, especially those that the large SIG groups use. The program will include writing thank-you notes and possibly making small donations to these establishments.

It has come to our attention that 9W is being widened into two lanes, which will likely have a negative impact on the bike lane. We plan to contact the New Jersey area bike clubs to obtain more information about the plans for 9W.

As another means of publicizing the Club, we have recently signed up for the “Adopt-a-Highway” program. The section of highway we have adopted is on 9W, from just north of Oak Tree Road to Spahn’s Plow Lane.

Costs

We have proposed a two-mile stretch of the East Coast Greenway, which is a 2,600 mile, traffic-free multi-use path linking cities from Maine to Florida. We will be notified regarding the exact location of our section of the Greenway — which will be in New York, of course — soon.

Ride Submissions

The online ride submission system is coming along well, and we expect it to go live within the next couple of months. Once it is up and running, ride leaders will be able to submit their monthly rides via the Club website and, when doing so, will be able to see what rides have already been submitted for particular dates.

Monthly Club Meetings

Feedback regarding the new sound system for the monthly Club meetings was positive. We are exploring various alternatives for securing the equipment between meetings.

Club Storage

We discussed various alternatives to storing Club property with club member Ed Geffner so as not to inconvenience Ed or Club members who need to retrieve things from storage. We will look into rates for storage facilities such as Manhattan Mini Storage.

Kids in Motion

June Robbins is spearheading the Club’s plans to host a kids’ stationary bike racing booth at Kids in Motion on June 16.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:28 p.m. Respectfully submitted,

Kathleen Jennings
Secretary

The meeting began at 7:25 and adjourned at 9 PM.

1. Ed White was voted special commendation for his highly successful organization of the West Point trip on July 4 weekend.
2. The Club was thanked by the sponsors of “Kids in Motion” including the American Cancer Society, the NYC Department of Education and the NYC Department of Parks & Recreation for providing the equipment and management for the cycling contests.
3. Deborah Bennett reported that the savings realized in the use of the electronic club bulletin had exceeded expectations and produced a better cash flow to date this year than projected.
4. The Piermont section of 9W which NYCNYC has “adopted” will be cleaned by club members starting July 31.
5. Letters of appreciation have gone out to several of the establishments used as rest stops on club rides.
6. The special events scheduled are Philharmonic July 19, a cruise on August 13 and a Yankees game on September 22. The Yankees tickets will have to be picked up at the club meeting.
7. Several ideas were discussed and will be tried to reduce the distribution time for prizes at the club meetings.
8. Gary McElmeade is making a storage box for the club public address equipment.
9. Further research is to be done on renting a commercial storage space for the club equipment.
10. The Labor Day weekend “Ride Noho” will be considered a club event and announced in the bulletin and email.

Bakery (which had nothing with chocolate); the Bijou Center, where industrious women crochet sandals and bead cellphone covers; the New Creation School; and various specimens of utopian architecture. I rode 15 km to Pondicherry on the second morning. It was a charming and clean place divided by a canal into French and Muslim communities, though all use the pretty seawall promenade. Braving a gantlet of staves, I rode deep into one of the outlying fishing villages and watched little boys playing cricket in the streets with a two-by-four, and girls playing make-believe puja out in front of the huts. I gave one girl a pen and the news traveled faster than I did to the other end of the village, where children ran up to me, crying “pen, pen!” as I bounced by.

I had a bit of an obsession. The day we arrived, our host brought a bag of chocolate croissants to have with our tea, which was unbelievably welcome. I am not a huge fan of Indian “sweets” and we were on a steady diet of rice, dal, okra and fruit. After an abstinent three weeks, I was craving not only a drink but something decadent and chocolatey, and now that I knew there was a place with killer desserts, I was on a mission. My first trip into the village (“You’re in the village now”) I poked around the dusty stalls and found what seemed to be the only bakery for miles. I peered into the dingy case and selected some pieces. One was soft and somewhat gingery and edible, another was ghee-y and sweet and tasted like the wisdom of the ages (or at least the last two weeks), and the most interesting — which the attending soft-eyed juvenile described as “chocolate” — was a touch-pastry shell with a filling that appeared to be made of floor-sweepings. It reminded me of traditional Christmas pudding in that it contained lots of dried fruit, but also cardamom, poppy, fennel, lemongrass and whatever else the spice merchants had found in their dustpan. This was a small revelation, but was not my gastronomic grail. But now — lo! I glimpsed it, purveyor of divine chocolate wares just opposite the Internet Café. The fly in the chai was that a resident passed away three days ago and everything cultural and commercial was closed out of respect for him. Lest we expire from boredom, rumors abounded of foul play: there were big tensions between Aurovillians and the villagers. I gathered from polyglot nightmares that there was very little life there. So I bought there’s irked at how blatantly Auroville is buying up the whole region and excluding the locals from it. So many years. There have been several reported attacks and a rape in the past year, and now a murder. I couldn’t figure it out here. Living and dying are so much in evidence, life so cheap. Yet out of respect for an individual of several thousand will stop going to work or play for half a week. Now that I knew where the bakery is, my recently poisoned body was in no fit state for such richness. It could have been anything – I ate — the breakfast iddly at the cab drivers’ cafe, the tomato salad at the nice restaurant in Pondy or the 16 rupee lunch on a banana leaf at the ashram. I was wobbly and squeakier than when I got here. Or maybe I’ve just noticed something about myself. Maybe I need to ride slower for a while. You can always count on India to point out the obvious and overlooked.

All Gain and No Pain
(Part 2 of a 3 part summer series)

Paul Levine will discuss the importance of proper cycling posture, body alignment and biomechanics of cycling as they relate to getting the most enjoyment and performance out of riding your bicycle. He will talk about the significance of flexibility and fitness in getting the proper fit, muscle firing sequences in an efficient pedaling technique and how to accommodate biomechanical imbalances. Paul will discuss how a properly fit bicycle can alleviate common cycling discomfort such as neck pain, lower back pain, knee pain, saddle soreness and tingling fingers and toes. A properly fit bicycle will permit you to be more powerful, efficient, balanced and comfortable, which will ultimately enhance your cycling experience.

Paul Levine is the program director of and an instructor for the Institute of Professional Bike Fitters through Serotta Bicycles. His trained bike fit technicians are educated in learning the skills and methodology of professional bike fitting and are regarded as the best-trained professionals in the industry. Paul’s responsibilities as program director have led him to create a performance enhancement team of orthopedic surgeons, podiatrists, chiropractic professionals, massage therapists, personal trainers, coaches, engineers, bicycle manufacturers and aerodynamic specialists to educate himself on the refinements of efficient bike fit. He has extensive experience working with everybody from new cyclists to elite athletes.
